PROF. RUSSELL TRÖTTER NAMED For the Republican Nomination for State

Superintendent-The Responsibilities of the Office would be Conscientiously Administered Under Mis Supervision-A Letter from "Progress" Reciting His

To the Editor of the Intelligencer. DEAR SIR:—One grand work in West Virginia, among many others, bears the unmistakable imprint of the Republican party. We refer to our splendid school system and educational institutions, which ow their existence to the Republican party After inaugurating and setting in motion the machinery of our magnificent free school system and several institutions of a higher order, the Republican party passed from power and for a quarter of a century the Democratic party has been in full control. In January, 1825, a Republican legislature was sent by the people to assemble at Charleston. The Republicans returned to power to find a greater and wealthier state than they turned over to the Democrats. Population and wealth had each increased, about 100 per cest—an increase based not upon particularly wise or judicious legislation, but upon the fact that nature had filled the hills and subterranean depths with vast store-houses of wealth.

In her educational institutions the progress had not kept pace with the general increase in prosperity. There remained the same state institutions and the same four months of free school or the country districts that had been After inaugurating and setting in mo remaned the same four months of free school for the country districts that had been created by the Republicans back in the days when the state's resources were undeveloped and her people poor. No new institutions had been founded and the educational sentiment in the state was rather at a low ebb.

The first work of the Republican legislature was to increase the term for the public free schools, making the minimum five months instead of four. The needs of the normal schools and the university were considered, and healthful legislation has already manifested itself in the larrely increased attendance at these institutions and an outburst of educational enthusiasm that has permeated every county in the state. With the return of the Republican party, to power, the people feel that our educational system will soon take its proper place in the march of progress.

So it will if we place the work in the care of able and broad-minded men. Our state superintendent should be a school man of experience, a man of exceptional power intellectually and one familiar with every step in our educational system, from the little country school to the highest institutions which include the graded and normal schools and the university. Among these there should exist a certain relationship and unity that can best be appreciated by one who has been trained in them. He alone can comprehend their needs and possibilities.

Have we such a man in West Virginia who could be induced to accept the nomination and undertake the work at the small salary paid the state superintendent of schools in West Virginia? Unquestionably we have in the person of the Republican party for this most important position. Mr. Thotter is a Republican and an earnest, conscientious believer in the principles and traditions were spent among the hills of Preston county, where he overcame the difficulties that loom up before the country boy of limited means and by working on the farm and teaching he managed to save money sufficient to take a post synducted from the insti land and middle states and if elected state superintendent would undoubtedly take to that important office a fund of intellect, judgment and experience never before coupled with the management of the educational work in the state. In conclusion, whatever the coming Republican convention may do, it must not be bartered off to satisfy disappointed districts, but must be dealt with, looking to the best interest of a great work—one which the Republican party has always championed, and in West Virginia whose God father it has ever been and is to-day. NEW YORK, April 30.—Notwith-bending the fact that the new Raines iquor bill was enforced in this city yesterday it was possible to buy in-yesterday it was possible to ony intoxicating drinks.

Under the interpretation of the Raines law anyone with ten bed rooms can open a hotel. Every restaurant keeper and saloon keeper who has not a bar in his main room has either secured a hotel license or else is trying to secure one. The announcement by Chief Conlin that no drinks could be sold in hotels without the sale of a bona fide meal at the same time did not cause this class of "hotel men" much worry, as none has yet actually defined what a legitimate meal is. In the majority of places a sandwich was considered a legitimate meal.

what is the Best Thing for People to De at this Season.

"I must take a spring medicine. My blood needs thiuning."

We frequently hear people make the above remark just at this time of the year. They feel weak and languid as milder weather approaches and realine that their health needs attention. But did it ever occur to such people that thinning the blood will only tend to make them weaker and that it would be far wiser to take something to increase their strength? Thousands of people have discovered that thinning the blood is a mistake and have derived more benefit from building up their health and vitality in spring-time. This fact is clearly proved by the following opinions of some reliable people: Mr. E. B. Toale, of 42 De Kalh avenue. Brooklyn, recently said: "I formerly suffered a great deal in the spring from weakness and nervous debility. It ried many remedies, but obtained no relief until I hegan taking Duffy's pure mait whiskey. Since I commenced uning it my riends are all astonished at my improved appearance. Miller, 524 North Twenty-third street, Philadelphia, says: "I used to amfer very much from weakness and debility at this season, but I now use Duffy's pure mait whiskey and keep tip my health. By taking it I find that my appetite is better, I sleep well and do not have that tired, languid, weary feeling I formerly experienced. It is certainly the best that it is a useful. It is unequaled for purifying the blood, quickening the circulation, toning up the system and restoring the vitality.

The Rentures of the Money and Steck Markets.

NEW TORK, April 20.—Money on call casy at 21603 per cent; last loan 2 per cent; closed at 3 per cent. Prime mercantile paper 5@5 per cent. Sterling exchange heavy, with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.88\\(\frac{1}{2}\) for demand and $4.87\(\frac{1}{2}\) for sixty days. Posted rates $4.88½@4.59 and $4.89½@ 4.90. Commercial bills $4.86%, Bar silver 67%c. Silver certificates 67%全68%c.

The stock market to-day presented a more healthy appearance than for some more healthy appearance than for some time past. Business was fairly large and the trading was unisually well distributed, conservative operators being gratified over the fact that although Sugar exceeded any other individual stock in point of activity, the railroad list to-day forged to the front. The contined pressure of money in London appears to be beginning to have the hoped for result of attracting foreign capital into this market. London quotations came higher for Americans and foreign dealers were purchasers in this market, choice investment bonds being also taken. An increase in local commission house orders was legically remarket, choice investment bonds being also taken. An increase in local commission house orders was legically reflected in the larger totals of transactions for the usually active railway stocks. The continued favorable wather and the absence of any positive unfavorable news helped the builish sentiment. There was very little news of importance bearing upon prices. The railroad bond market sympathized with the buoyant stock speculation. As reflecting the congestion of money in London, it may be noted that British consols made a high record to-day, touching 114. The return in investment of capital in these and other prime European mortgages is so meagre, that it is only logical that the European investors should turn to this market. What losses were scored in the morning were unimportant. Activity subaided in the afternoon session, until near the close when revived animation and ing were unimportant. Activity subsided in the afternoon session, until neather close, when revived animation and additional advances were recorded, imparting a buoyant tone to the closing.

The total sales of stocks to-day were 333.311 shares.
